Hello there! Tessa Bide Productions and The Anarchist's Mobile Library here, a theatre company and collector of stories. We've teamed up with Calne WordFest and your local library because we want to create a story about your town and we need your help...

We write stories, we tell stories, and we LOVE reading new stories in the library. We want to celebrate your local library and town by creating a special story written by YOU, your friends and your neighbours, inspired by whatever YOU want to put in it. So we are sending you this special postcard, for you to write or draw a suggestion for our newest story.

To start you off, we've written 'Once upon a time in Calne...' then you fill in the blank! When you've thought of something – it could be a short story, a word, a character's name or a location, a memory, a rhyme or some colours that spring to mind – scribble them down or draw them on the front of this postcard. Be bold and imaginative!

Hand this card to us...

Visit us and The Anarchist's Mobile Library, at the Pop-up Pocket Park on Saturday 10 October (10.30am-3pm) to personally hand deliver your story idea and tell us all about it and have some fun with the performers (in a socially distanced way, of course!). We will also have our digital, interactive audio adventure for you to play while you visit. If you have children aged 6-9 then bring a device that can access the internet and some headphones and you can play! Or, you can access it at home via www.poundarts.org.uk during Libraries Week, Monday 5 to Saturday 10 October.

Then...

We will read through all your suggestions and then create a special story made up of all your ideas, which we will return to Calne at a later date for you to enjoy. If you have any questions in the meantime, drop us an email to admin@tessabide.com or call The Pound arts centre on 01249 701628. You can find out more about us at www.tessabide.com too. Thank you and have fun getting creative, reading and visiting your local library!!
