Axel Scheffler Workshop

Year 4 went to St Mary's to take part in an Axel Scheffler workshop. Axel Scheffler is the iconic illustrator of the Gruffalo and George, the Smartest Giant. The children had a great time and watching him draw his famous characters.

He gifted Holy Trinity with a personalised picture of the Gruffalo and The Stick Man. Not only that, we were given a signed copy of The Gruffalo, find this in the library.

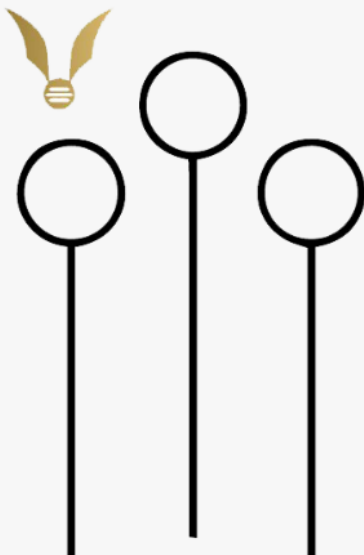

Quidditch

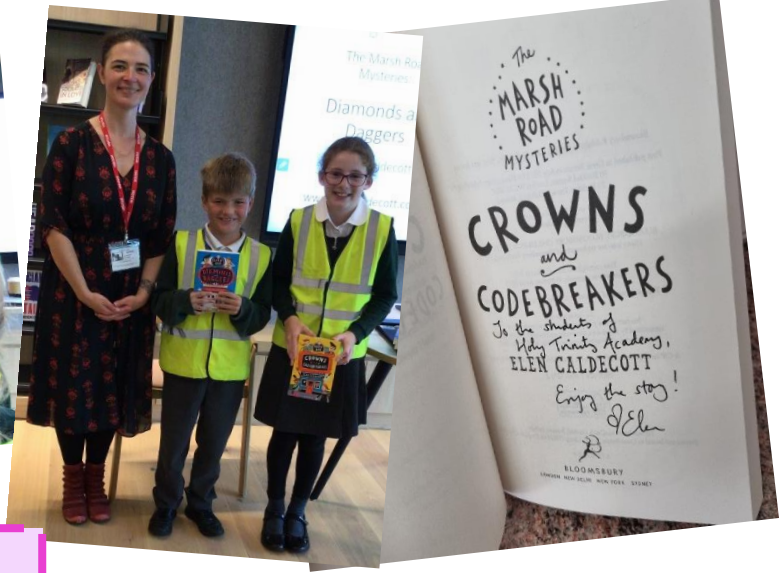

On Monday 20th September, we took seven Year 5 children to a Quidditch Festival at Kingsbury Green. Our team was Hufflepuff, the house of hard-work, dedication and fair-play - each and every one of the children lived up to this and so much so that they got second place! I couldn't have been prouder of the children for their team-spirit and collaboration: forming their own huddles to discuss tactics, motivate each other and also clapping and congratulating the rival teams. Well done, Year 5!

Miss Moore.

Quidditch is a really fun game to play – but you have to listen carefully to the rules and how the game works! It was so fun; I really enjoyed it. -Freddie

The Quidditch festival was fun and it was cool to learn how to play. Quidditch was exciting and when we came second it was even more exciting! - Eliza

Elen Caldecott Workshop

Year 6 also visited St Marys this week. They got to meet the author Elen Caldecott. The children learnt about the writing process and asked some excellent questions.

Elen gifted Holy Trinity with signed copies of a couple of her books. Have a look in our library to see if you can find them.

Thank You

A big thank you to all that came to celebrate Miss Wilford-Silver's retirement. She was amazing at her work and was loved by all. She will be missed.

She even gifted us with a parting gift. Keep an eye out for it in a few weeks when we can put it up in the school.
